Sir,

The information called for in the above cited letter is furnished below :

Copies of reports on sample surveys or ad hoc enquiries on nutritional survey are not available as they have not been done.

DIETARY HABITS : The staple food of this State is rice. The method in which the rice is being used is found to be wrong because a large percentage of the people eat well polished boiled rice. A propoganda is being made through school teachers, social welfare workers and public health staff to see that the defect is removed. Hand pounded rice is being used in all the government institutions like hospitals, jails and boarding houses.

SCHOOL MEDICAL EXAMINATIONS : Prior to anti-malaria measures were instituted more than 50% of the students had enlarged spleen. Now this has come to less than 1% There is no other appreciable defects among the students.

INCIDENCE OF MALARIA : An exhaustive survey was conducted during the year 1946, which showed that the incidence of malaria was 215 per thousand of population. The spleen rate amongst the school children was 55%. Anti-malaria measures were instituted during the year 1947 from which time onwards the incidence has come down.
